Tell Me What the Time Is Wfh (Whiz Kids) Shirley Willis

The Whiz Kids are a group of children - and a dog - who explain scientific subjects in a simple and friendly way. This book gives lots of simple facts about telling the time in a clear and concise way. The information is brought to life and reinforced by simple experiments which allow children to see science at work for themselves. Young readers are encouraged to observe, explore and ask questions about the time and the changes that happen throughout the year. Investigative skills are developed through the use of simple "how", "what" and "where" questions. "Tell me what the time is" introduces children to the conventions of non-fiction text as it contains features common to most reference texts, such as a contents page, captions, an index and a glossary.
