Excerpt from Historical Papers of the North Carolina Conference Historical Society: And the Western North Carolina Conference Historical Society

At the request of the proper authorities I have assumed the responsibility for seeing this volume through the press. The editorial work has had a serious limitation, viz., that the addresses now published were written to be spoken, not to be read critically. Consequently the authors omitted foot notes and references, and because of frequent changes of residence on their part and, in some cases, of death, it has been impossible to secure such revision as would remedy this defect. Therefore the addresses are published practically as delivered.

A few words are also in order concerning the antecedents of this publication. The Historical Society of the North Carolina Conference was organized in 1873, but it issued no publication until 1897. Then there appeared The First Annual Publication of the Historical Society of the North Carolina Conference. Methodist Episcopal Church. South (112pp). In 1901 a second series of Historical Papers was published (49pp), and in 1912 four addresses and A Journal and Travel of James Meacham (95pp) were issued as Series IX of the Historical Papers of the Trinity College Historical Society.

In 1917 the Historical Society of the Western North Carolina Conference was organized and the present publication includes the addresses before that body in 1917, 1920, and 1922, those before the North Carolina Conference Historical Society from 1911 to 1923 excepting 1915, 1919, and 1920, and one read at the Charlotte District Conference (Western North Carolina Conference) in 1917.

The publication is the most valuable contribution to Methodist history in North Carolina since the appearance of Grissom's History of Methodism in North Carolina (1907).
